INDICATORS OF NEED TO INCREASE OR DECREASE CAMPUS AND INSTRUCTIONAL OPERATIONS

While AUD has been working to resume partial on-campus and in-person operations, the health and safety of the AUD community remains our priority. As such, President Schmidt and the COVID Taskforce Committee are monitoring daily several indicators that could force a change in our planning.

Consultation with public health officials regarding easing campus restrictions and increasing or returning to on-campus operations:

- Confirmation of decreased viral virulence or infectivity and/or development of improved treatment methods.
- Widespread availability of immunization (safe vaccine).

Immediate action to move totally remote or online:

- Any orders mandating campus closure/decreased campus operations/work from home by government authorities.

General Campus Operations:

- Face coverings must be worn in all indoor areas (unless alone in a private office), and outdoors.
- On-campus signage provides instructions related to queuing, entry/exit, wearing of face coverings, occupancy, physical distancing, etc.
- Increased cleaning protocols are instituted for high-touch areas and multi-use areas (classrooms, restrooms, etc.).
- On-campus students will have access to campus outside of their class timing within reason. There will be places on campus to study or wait between classes with social distancing in place.

Fees/Tuition

- There will be no fee/tuition increase this year and there will also be no reduced tuition for online courses.

Academic Instruction:

- Approximately 25% of courses are offered with some or all on-campus instruction; 75% of courses are offered as completely online instruction.
- All on-campus classrooms have been reconfigured to meet social distancing guidelines.
- A consistent attendance policy is established across all classes, with exceptions for illness or isolation requirements.
- All on-campus classroom instruction will be captured via video (hyflex) technology for use by students who are unable to come to campus.
- The first two weeks of the semester will be entirely online.

What happens after the first two weeks of the semester? Will online courses be extended for the rest of the semester?

After the first two weeks (during which all classes will be online), some classes will remain fully online while others will be offered in hyflex mode (simultaneously online and face-to face). Students will have the option to attend hyflex courses face to face or online (by completing an application). In the published course schedule, hyflex courses are labeled as 'OC'. The university is continuously assessing the situation and will inform students should there be any changes to this plan.

Will there be a penalty for students who are unable to return to the UAE before September 15th and have classes scheduled on campus?

If you have opted to attend an 'OC' course face to face and fail to show up to class on Sept. 15th, the regular attendance policy applies. If you are scheduled for an online class or have opted to attend a hyflex course online and do not show up, you will be marked absent for the course as per the rules laid out in the 'Remote Learning and Examination Guidelines for Students'.

For students who are outside the UAE and prefer to take their classes fully online, is there a form they need to fill out?

Yes, the online application link for hyflex will be emailed to all students who are registered for 'OC' (On-Campus) courses by the end of the drop/add period.

Are on-campus courses also available online for those who cannot come to campus?

Yes, classes will either be fully online or conducted in hyflex mode. During the first two weeks of the semester, all classes will be online in order to allow a smooth transition for students and faculty.

How will midterm and final exams for lecture courses be conducted? Will they be face to face or online?	All exams and quizzes will continue to be online.
Do hyflex courses have the same teachers? If students started online can they switch to on-campus at any time during the fall semester?	Students who are registered for On-Campus hyflex courses, and wish not to attend the face-to-face sessions, can apply for the online option through an application. This request can be edited later on if the student's circumstances change. For example, a student who is unable to get a visa to Dubai and applies for online attendance in a hyflex course for the whole semester, may edit the request anytime he/she gets the visa and then start attending face-to-face. Alternatively, a student attending a hyflex course online can also switch to attending face-to-face by applying through the application.
For courses that are all online, will students continue to have the pass/fail option ?	The Pass/No-Pass option will continue to be available to all students in Fall semester.
Will the classes offered online have different timings?	All courses will run as per the dates and times in the published Fall 2020 class schedule.
Will labs be on campus or they are also online?	The courses that have 'OC' in the section are offered in hyflex mode. All other courses are completely online.

On-Campus Housing:

- All on-campus rooms at this time are single occupancy.
- There will be longer check-in time over ten days (August 20th – September 14th).

Questions and Answers:

- If I stayed in Dubai, do I still have to submit anything to enter the University ?
- I have a question about back to back classes, I happen to have an online lecture right before an on-campus lecture, so I would need to be present on campus during that online lecture because of transportation time. Where, on campus, should I attend that online lecture? (In the designated classroom written on the syllabus? In the library?)
